

Emmy Maswanganye (in red top) won a week getaway trip for two in Mauritius and an additional R10 000 for spending.

EMMY'S GEMENT BONANZA!

By SUN REPORTER

EMMY Maswanganye won a trip to Mauritius! She was a lucky customer at K. Carrim Builders and Tile Mecca. Emmy went into the shop to buy cement, and entered the PPC Mauritius competition. She won a week-long getaway trip for two in Mauritius - and R10 000 in spending money!

In a joyful voice Emmy said: "I can't believe this is happening to me! I always thought that a friend, or family member would win, but it was me!"
 "My husband came the first day to buy PPC cement and I came the second time. A salesman

Competition winner will jet off to Mauritius from K Carrim told me about the competition and said I should enter. I did, and I won!"

The competition ran from 1 June to 11 July in celebration of K Carrim Builders and Tile Mecca's 50 years in the retail business.

Out of the 194 stores nationwide, K Carrim Builders and Tile Mecca on the corner of Boom and Bosman streets in Tshwane had the winning entry. Faizel Gani of K Carrim Builders and Tile Mecca said: "Our aim is to encourage social cohesion among customers with good quality products and service that will beat any."

"We want to give our customers value for their money and the PPC Mauritius competition announcement came at the right time."

He added that K Carrim Builders and Tile Mecca has opened another store in the Atterbury Décor Centre on Atterbury Road in Pretoria East.